SANDERSTEAD DRAMATIC CLUB
(Established 1907)

If you enjoyed tonight's performance of our pantomime, with it's cast of hundreds, its massed bands and dancing girls, you may well be in the mood to consider SANDERSTEAD DRAMATIC CLUB'S next presentation. This is to be something altogether different.

It's a hot and oppressive afternoon. Twelve American jurymen have just heard the evidence in a routine murder trial and are now being asked to deliver their judgement. It looks like an open-and-shut case. A verdict of guilty, to be followed by just another walk to the electric chair by just another hoodlum. All the jury agreed... except one. He begins to examine the evidence. To introduce doubt. To challenge the assumptions of his fellow jurymen. To make them think again.

In doing so, he forces each one reluctantly to reveal more and more of his hidden nature. The personal challenges, the heat, the arguments and the necessity to decide another man's fate... all these things help generate the passions which illuminate the characters in REGINALD ROSE'S PLAY TWELVE ANGRY MEN.

Sanderstead Dramatic Club is to present Twelve Angry Men Directed by Suzi Keable on April 20th, 21st and 22nd, 1989 At All Saints Hall, Onslow Gardens, Sanderstead.
